Distributed Work

Remote work is a discipline for the individual worker, but distributed work is a discipline for the entire organization.

For distributed companies, the social contract for employment is not about showing up physically, but showing up mentally and engaging fully from wherever you are.

Gartner forecasted 51% of global knowledge workers would be remote by the end of 2021.

Diverse Global Teams

Diversity is a satisfying mix of ideas, cultures, races, genders, economic statuses and other characteristics necessary for growth and learning among a group.

Who we hire can no longer be bound by location. Diverse Global Teams are necessary for any company's survival.

Innovation revenue means better financial performance

In highly diverse companies: 45% of revenue is from innovation

In average diverse companies: 26% of revenue is from innovation

More diversity results more innovation

Diversity is the New Darwinism

To build a better communications industry, we need diverse teams so that we:

- reflect the society we communicate with
- develop more innovative work
- survive and ultimately prosper

Innovation Revenue Rises with Diversity

BCG 3-year study:
Revenue from innovation rises
with diversity.

of revenues from new products
and services in the most recent three-year period

EXHIBIT 1 | The Relationship Between Diversity and Innovation Is Positive and Statistically Significant

- BCG and the Technical University of Munich plotted 98 companies according to two variables: their diversity (expressed as a Blau index number) and their innovation revenue.
- The diagonal line shows the relationship between those two variables—that is, the average innovation revenue associated with each diversity number.
- The diamonds represent the 98 companies' individual diversity number and innovation revenue, and show how innovation revenues deviate from the general trend.

Source: 2016 survey of German, Swiss, and Austrian companies by BCG and Technical University of Munich. Ninety-eight of the surveyed companies provided the necessary information for this analysis.

Note: The shown relationship is positive (Pearson's $r = 0.253$) and statistically significant ($p < 0.05$). Innovation revenue = the percentage of revenue from new products or services in the most recent three-year period.

The Four Types of Diversity That Bolster Innovation—And Two That Don't

Of the six types of diversity analyzed in the study, four positively correlate with innovation:

- industry background
- country of origin
- career path
- gender

EXHIBIT 2 | The Four Types of Diversity That Bolster Innovation—And Two That Don't

DIVERSITY DIMENSION		RELATIONSHIP TO INNOVATION
		Direction of relationship	Statistical significance of relationship
	Industry background	↑	Very high
	Country of origin	↑	Very high
	Career path	↑	Very high
	Gender	↑	High
	Academic background	~	None
	Age	↓	High

↑ Positive significant relationship ↓ Negative significant relationship
~ No significant relationship

Note: Innovation = the percentage of revenue from new products or services in the most recent three-year period. Very high statistical significance = a p value <0.01. High statistical significance = a p value <0.05.

Why Diverse Teams Are Smarter

Greater returns:

- up to 35% above Industry Average

Why:

Diversity And Inclusion

Why Diverse Teams Are Smarter

by David Rock and Heidi Grant

November 04, 2016

No one of us is smarter than all of us.

Collaborate Inclusively

Is this easy?

When each team member truly embodies the five Scrum Values then the team becomes an unstoppable equitable force.

Courage & Openness

Commitment & Focus

What?
Diversity

How?
Inclusion

Respect

Mission #9 - Respect for Diversity

“The understanding that human beings are equal participants in a common ethical world by virtue of their human status, all the while recognizing each individual’s uniqueness and differences. Respect for diversity goes beyond tolerance and understanding to actively acknowledge and promote the equal worth of peoples without condescension. “diversity is a form of wealth, something very positive, not something to be afraid of”.

Creative Abrasion

“the intellectual friction that hones ideas into their most-perfect versions through vigorous debate of diverse perspectives”

- Linda A. Hill, Harvard Business School

The Product Backlog helps identify the diversity of background, skills, and knowledge required to create the most innovative, competitive solution.

Hire the distributed diverse people needed to achieve the Product Goal.

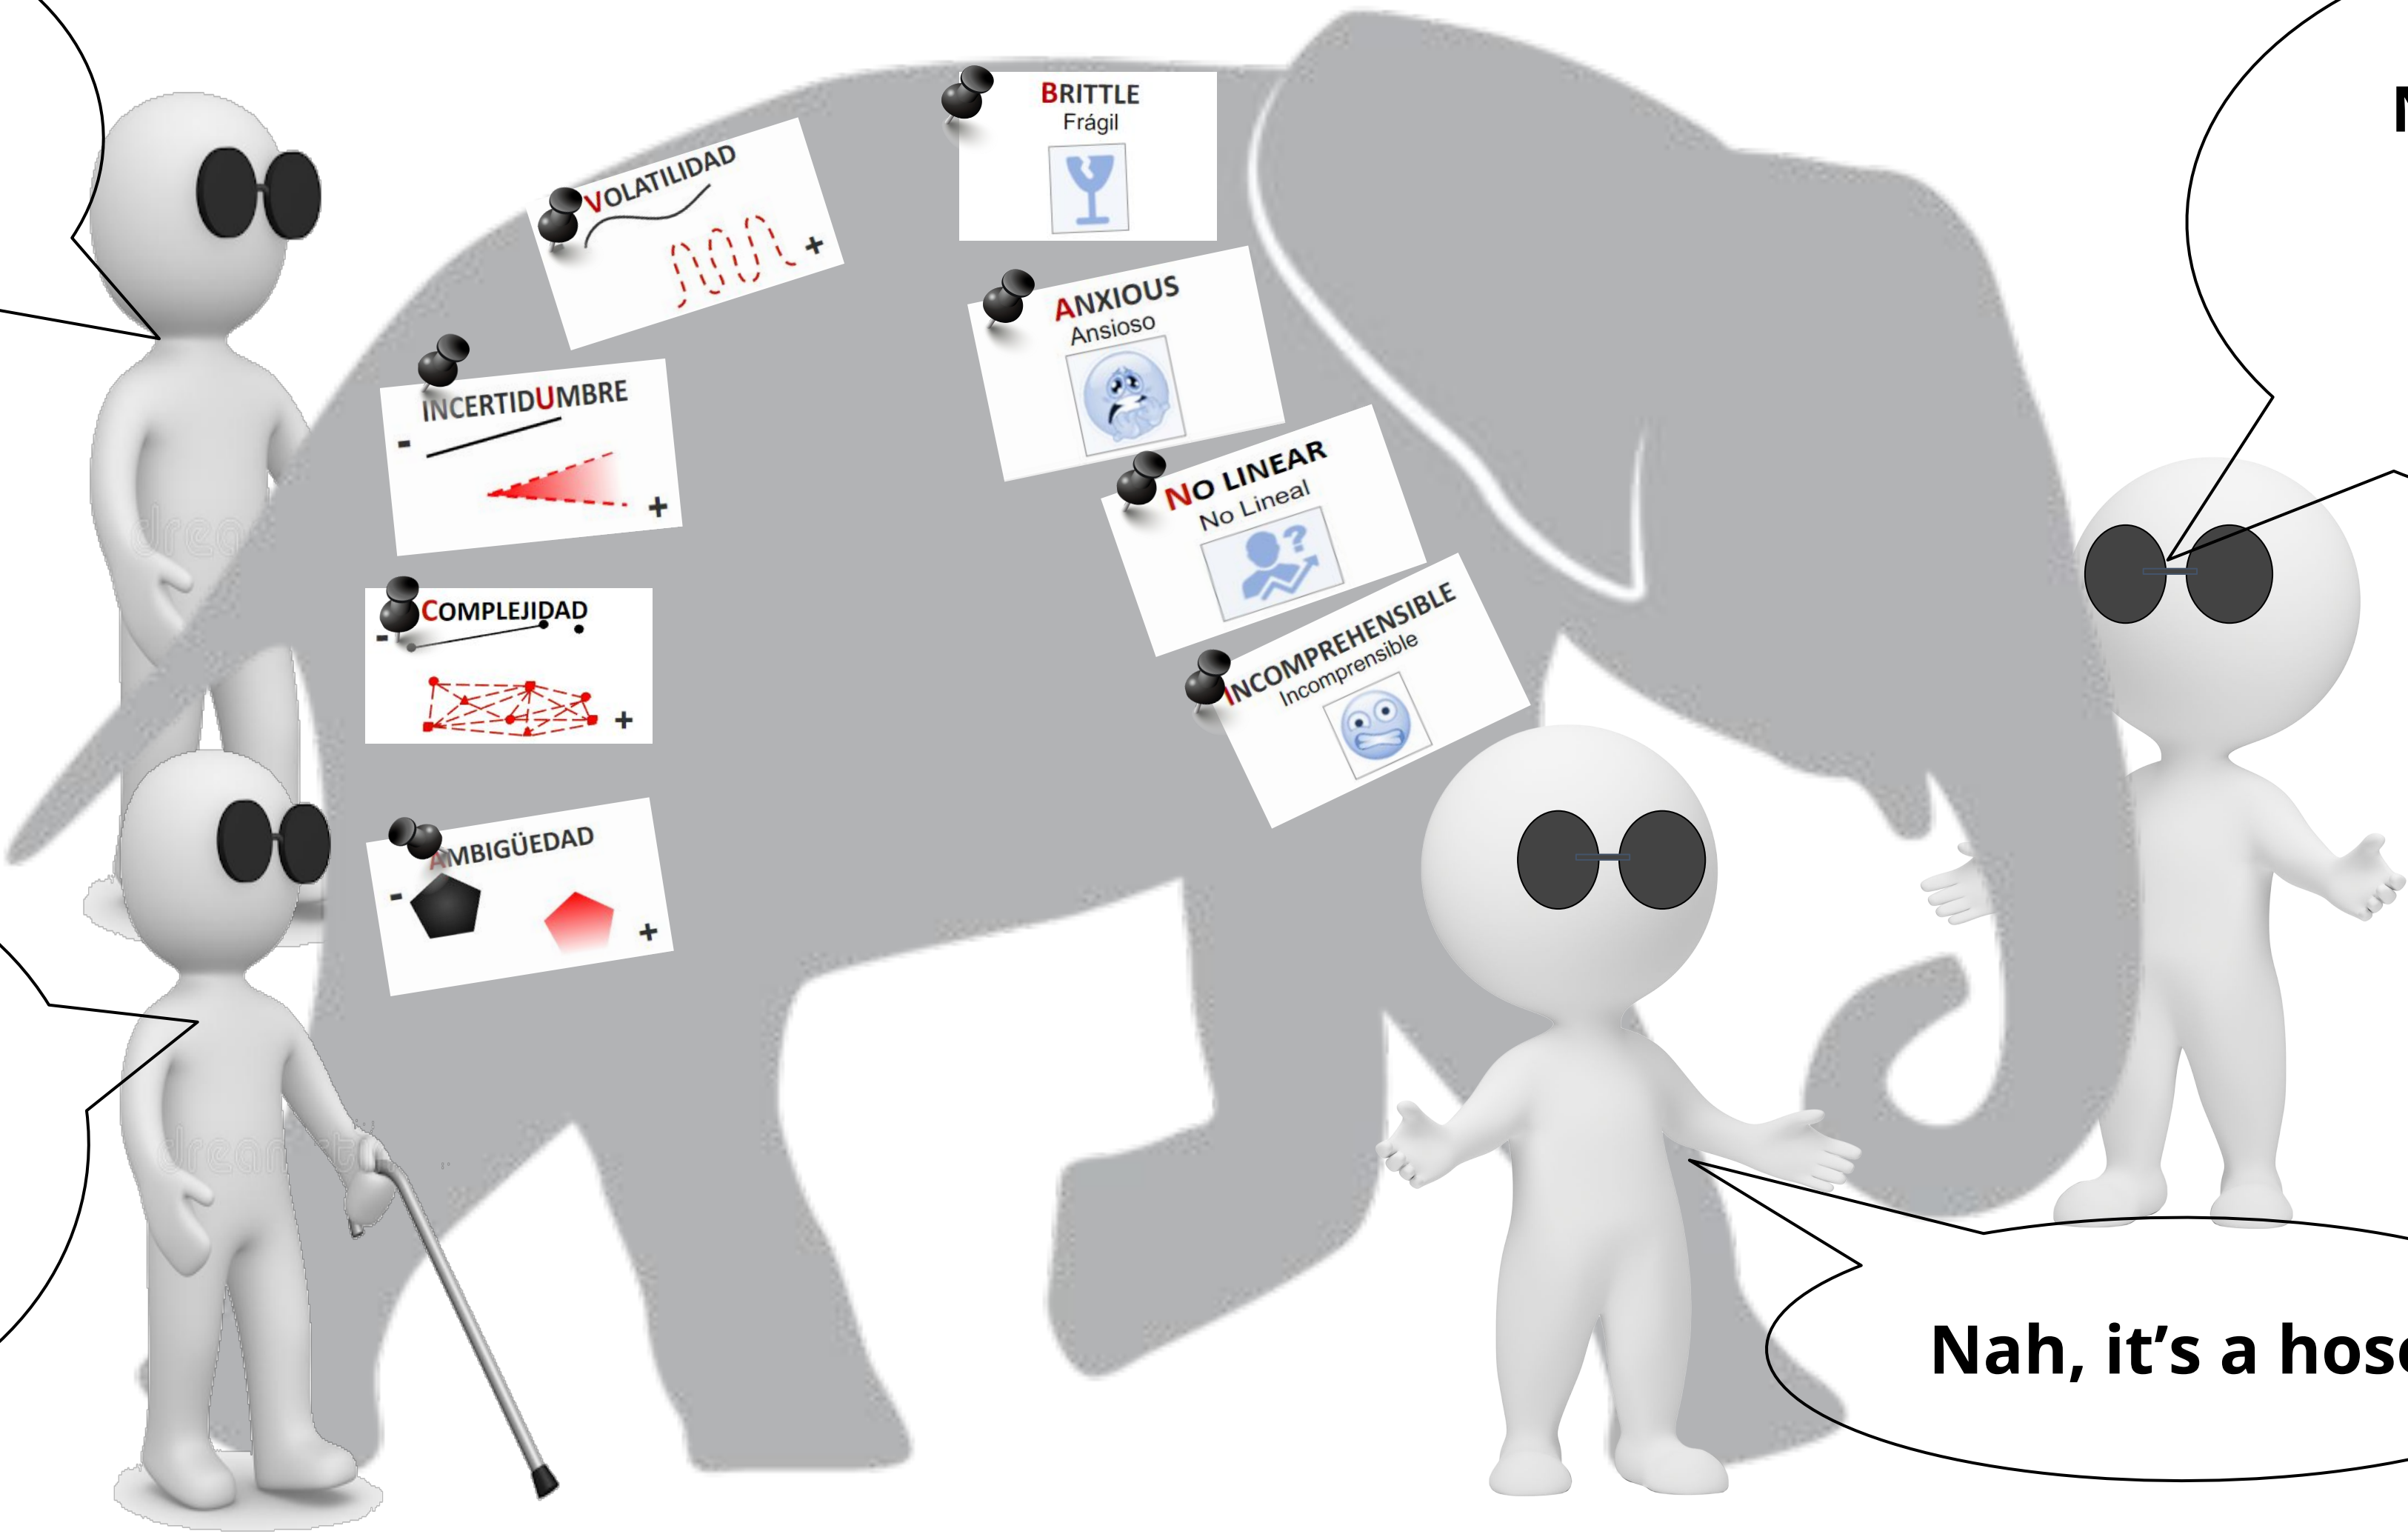

Teams need to learn how to work together to harness their diversity as a competitive advantage.

It is a wall!

No, they're all wrong, it's a dagger

No! It is a column!

Nah, it's a hose

So how do we ensure that diverse, distributed teams are able to become high performing?

Make the implicit explicit by establishing a contract forged by the people working together.

Every single Sprint, the team explores how they can improve as a collective and build upon one another's perspectives.

How does your workplace encourage the sharing of new ideas from differing points of view?

Reinforce a Learning Culture of Experimentation and Empiricism

What is a Learning Culture?

- A learning culture is defined as, “a culture that supports an open mindset, an independent quest for knowledge, and shared learning directed toward the mission and goals of the organization.” (- CEB, a Gartner division)

Why is a learning culture important?

- Learning and innovation often get stuck locally where they happen
- To create a true learning organization, beneficial ideas and discoveries need to be propagated beyond the borders in which they were found

Unlocking Learning

To develop a learning culture, begin by recognizing the key constraints that prevent people from reaching their full potential as learners. Organizations need to develop policies and processes that address obstacles that inhibit learning, including:

- Ego. We all want to be liked and perceived favorably by others. As a result, we defend, deny and deflect what we think may cause us to lose face or to look uninformed or not particularly smart.
- Fear. We seek to avoid the embarrassment of failure.
- Complacency. When we learn something, we tend to retreat to automatic pilot mode, resisting new challenges and ideas.
