Jennifer Fields

Jennifer is an authentic leader, passionate about helping teams and organizations do what they do better. She loves seeing individuals, teams, and leaders begin to rediscover their “Why” and reclaim the joy of working at their full potential. She began her agile journey working as a developer on an agile team and never looked back.

Along the way Jennifer added to her agile toolbox by working in a variety of roles - Project Manager, Scrum Master, Product Owner and Sr. Leadership, each helping to solidify and strengthen her agile mindset. Her wide-ranging experience provides her with a keen ability to work with folks across organizations, meeting them where they are to help them get to where they long to be.

She enjoys strategizing with executives who have the vision, passion, and courage to make real transformations happen, and does so without losing sight of the importance of teams and individuals. Jennifer believes individual transformation is what leads to lasting impactful organizational change and the greatest value delivery.

Agile Coaching Growth Wheel

History

- A model definition effort begun in ~2016 at a Scrum Alliance Coaching Retreat in Europe
- ~10-12 practicing coaches discussed the “craft” of agile coaching and the need for more well-rounded and depth of skills.
- V1 of the Wheel introduced in 2016, initiative led by Mark Summers.
- Bob Galen’s blog post entitled – Agile Coaching – I have a Dream sparked additional reflection...
 - <https://www.agile-moose.com/blog/2020/11/29/agile-coaching-i-have-a-dream>
- In 2021 and the Scrum Alliance formed a working group led by Mark Summers, Joel Bancroft-Connors, and Brock Argue to renew the focus and update the Wheel. They’re working on it into 2022 and will release a Creative Commons version 3 mid-year. We’re referencing early copies of the specification.

Coaching Conversation Considerations

Meet them where they are

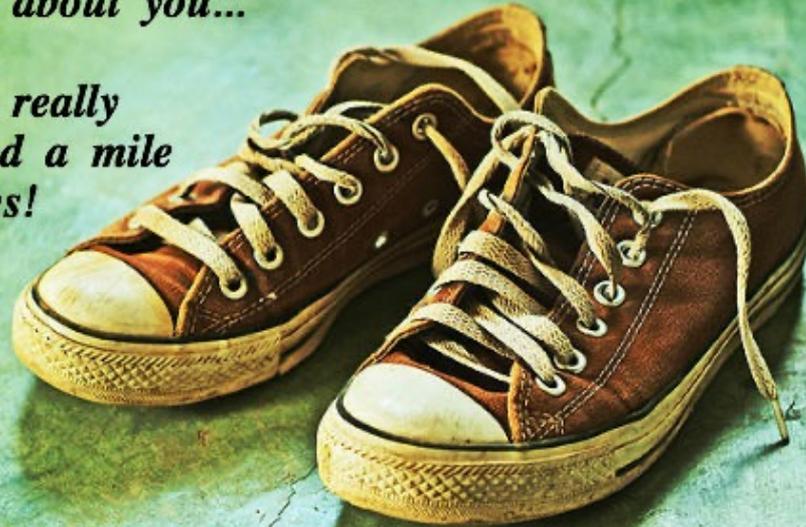

- Try not to coach too “far away” from their current context
- Empathy for the current landscape
 - Agile transformation, culture, skills, leadership dynamics, business dynamics
- Give them the “Truth” they can “Handle”

It helps if you have walked in their shoes...

*When you judge someone
it says more about you...*

*...unless you really
HAVE walked a mile
in their shoes!*

Coaching Mindset

- Ethics
- Service of the Client; Do no harm
- Hold your coaching clients as capable, smart, and having all the information they need
- Establish and hold the clients agenda
- Presence
- Meta-skills
- Releasing your baggage
- Coach the system
- Well-rounded coaching / Sense & respond (dancing)
- Walk your talk; Modeling

Coaching Conversations

A Simple Model

Opening Moves

- Ask permission
- Establish goal(s)
- Set the stage
- Open-ended questions
- Listening – emotional field
- Direction finding

Middle Game

- Widening / brainstorming
- Options
- Strategies
- Narrowing & planning
- Exploration
- Clarification

End Game

- Closure
- Ownership – who does what?
- Action plans and next steps
- Repeat, confirmation
- Schedule

7 Essential Coaching Questions

1. What's on your mind?
2. And what else?
3. What's the real challenge here for you?
4. What do you want?
5. How can I help?
6. If you're saying "yes" to this, what are you saying "no" to?
7. What was most useful to you?

Agile Coaching – Dancing with the Client

Coaching Scenarios

Coaching Dojo

practice, practice, practice...

<https://rgalen.com/agile-training-news/2016/6/12/coaching-dojo-with-a-twist>

- Break into groups of 3 (Triads) or 4 --
 - ❑ Coachee: engages/responds to the conversation.
 - ❑ Coach: initiates/enters the conversation.
 - ❑ Observer – Facilitator/Scribe: notes, debrief learnings, conductor.
- Decide on roles, select a scenario, and Arc.
- Run a 10-minute DOJO conversation then 5-minute Retro

KEY is to Role Play! Have FUN with it. Improvisation!

Coaching Dojos – Stances

- Practice your Stance Switching
 - ❑ Dancing, Situational Coaching, Sense & Response
- Primary stances will either be—
 - ❑ Advising (consultative, advice / options, sounding board)
 - ❑ Coaching (questioning, exploring, observing)
 - ❑ Leading (modeling, guiding, prescribing)
- Try to hold to that stance as much as possible throughout the Coaching Conversational Arc.

Faster, faster...

Direction: Upward

You're the Agile Coach and have observed the Chief Product Owner influencing estimates on more than one Backlog Refinement session. The “good news” is that she is very interested and engaged in these team meetings.

The “bad news” is that she is influencing the estimates, and more importantly, the conversations. You've brought this to her attention several times before, but the behavior if anything has gotten worse.

What to do? What conversation(s) to have?

Swooping...

Direction: Upward or Peer-to-Peer

You are a ScrumMaster / Coach and have noticed a strong pattern where Team managers are “swooping in” to their respective teams each time they (the team) encounter a critical problem.

They keep taking the problem solving and accountability from the team and you can see the morale, ownership and empowerment waning across all of the teams.

There is one particular manager, very senior, experienced and respected, simply isn't responding to your coaching.

What to do? What conversation(s) to have?

Continuous improvement? Sure.

Peer-to-Peer

You've noticed that many of your fellow ScrumMasters have dropped team retrospectives. The primary reason seems to be that they generally lack impact, and frankly, they don't see the value.

They're promising to pick them up when there is more time. Is this a great form of inspect & adapt, or something else?

What to do? What conversation(s) to have?

There IS an I in Team!

Direction: Downward

You're the ScrumMaster of a team who has recently adopted Scrum. One team member, the Team Lead, is really struggling to work within the dynamics of a cross-functional team.

Because they “know everything”, they are negative, belligerent in meetings, don't like to collaborate with others, and are increasingly disruptive.

Another team member has pulled you aside, literally begging you to do “something” because its become intolerable.

What to do? What conversation(s) to have?

Workshop Debrief

We'll be recording/capturing some verbal feedback. You can also provide feedback in the chat...

Questions

1. How did you connect to the Coaching ARC? Was it helpful? What worked? Didn't work?
2. How about the Agile Coaching Growth Wheel, same questions?
3. Dojo format – general feedback on using it as a practice model? What worked best? How to improve it?
4. Impact of switching your stances?
5. Share any other learnings?

Wrapping up...

Thank you!

And please aspire to become more...
Well-rounded!
